THE CAUDILLS GATHER AGAIN

Up near the clouds, in an expanding cove near the top of Pine Mountain a few steps from a big spring and where thousands of years ago the unscarred fawn went to slake his thirst, hundreds of people from all sections of the county and from surrounding counties met last Sunday to participate in holding the big annual Caudill reunion. The place was romantic and the day ideal. The heart of the big crowd was pulsating with joy, gaiety and sometimes tears, for these often loitered down trembling faces. There was joy that so many of the Caudill name, kith and blood could again be there; there was gaiety that the family so long dimmed by the mist of fading years still stood in its manhood, strength and character; there was sadness and tears that so many of them had passed over the border to await a happier reunion on the other side. There was a manifest solemnity, a silent prayer, almost audible when the old song, "Brethren, We Have Met Again," rolled from joyful lips and echoed among the pines, the oaks, the maples and the caves. Why? It was in a temple not made with hands. It was no great surprise when the words of the old song died away that a Jacob's ladder was let down and the words of prayer pouring from the heart of Eld. Tyree found their way up that ladder. At the close Emery L. Frazier stood up from his place in the audience and picked a few chance words from a basket of plenty and wove them into wreaths of welcome. Then Judge R. Monroe Fields spoke feelingly, recounting incidents in the long history of the Caudill family from which he sprang, and paying it beautiful and truthful compliments. County Attorney Astor Hogg made one of his usual eloquent talks and was followed by short speeches by Congressman A. J. May and Hon. Hillard H. Smith. The two last named are nominees for Congress in our district and from the state at large. Neither of these in their talks made any gesture towards politics. Attorney John Caudill, of Prestonsburg, one of the Caudill household, gave a beautiful but short talk. Some others also made short remarks. Soon after twelve o'clock at the announcement, "Soup's on," long tables were spread all over the grounds, all laden with the finest of eatables of all kinds, and the hundreds were filled to the brim. Pictures were made of the vast assemblage and a general recognition of all and everybody present was made.

"God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," and an invocation by Rev. O. V. Caudill and the biggest of all reunions passed behind the curtains, long to be treasured and remembered.

The beautiful event will be the talk of the people who assembled and partook of the pleasures and luxuries, for days to come.

The next reunion will be held at Blackey on a date in September, next year, to be fixed later.

Cro C. Caudill Makes Statement

To The Voters of Letcher County:

My friends from every section of the county having suggested that I let the public know whether I would give them an opportunity to say if I should serve them as their County Court Clerk for another four years, which prompts me at this early date to say that if they are satisfied with the services I am rendering and have been rendering you and will be satisfied with the same kind another term, then I shall be pleased to continue as your servant.

Thanking you for all past favors, I am,

Sincerely yours,

CRO C. CAUDILL.

Fortunately coal is selling much cheaper this fall than usual. Maybe people can keep warm at least during the coming winter.

ORGANIZE YOUNG MENS' DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Senator Chas. D. Arnett, of Nicholasville, was here early in the week, and with a dozen or more Democrats started an organization to be known as the Young Mens' Democratic Club. At the meeting Watson G. Holbrook was elected president, Emery L. Frazier, secretary, and C. L. Kilgore, treasurer. A magisterial district chairman was also named in all the eight districts. The organization is supposed to start functioning at once. The Eagle understands that there is a little money on the board to pamper the organization, and it speaks for money.

TO ORGANIZE TEACHERS' ASS'N

Saturday, Oct. 1, 1932, all teachers living in Letcher County are requested and urged to assemble promptly at 1 o'clock on that day in the Whitesburg Graded School auditorium for the purpose of organizing a Letcher Teachers' Association. The intention and purpose is to promote the interests of Letcher County schools and Letcher County teachers. It is important that all teachers attend, for at this meeting all officials and active committees will be elected and appointed. The meeting is called on and by the approval of our County Superintendent.

Henry M. Holbrook.

NOTICE

A mass meeting of the Republicans of Letcher County is called for Saturday, Oct. 1, 1932, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the courthouse in the city of Whitesburg, Ky., for the purpose of selecting a campaign chairman and campaign chairwoman for the ensuing election.

This September 22, 1932,

Uncle Bob May listened over the radio. The cheers and hurrahs were loud and long. He had been informed it was Vice President Curtis speaking, so he almost cussed and fumed. For an hour it continued. At the close the announcer said, "You have been listening to Gov. Franklin Roosevelt, Democratic nominee for President." And uncle Bob has been bragging on the speech ever since.

APPOINTED COUNTY ATTORNEY FOR KNOTT

Clark Pratt, a well known young lawyer, was appointed County Attorney of Knott County to succeed J. E. Perkins, lately deceased. Mr. Pratt is well known and well connected in our county.

CLAY COUNTY TRAGEDIES

Last Sunday evening, Winchester barked from courthouse windows in the little mountain town of Manchester, Clay County, and Commonwealth's Attorney Frank H. Baker, as equally well known as any man in that section, bit the dust—a dead man. Another man, John Brockman, ran to his assistance and he, too, went down under the fusillade of bullets. Two others, trying to render aid to the shot men, were also seriously wounded. The men who did the shooting were hidden behind brick walls within the very temple of justice in an old county and town musty with age and yet long infested with feuds and factions. More than fifty years ago the names of Philpots, Bakers, Whites, Howards and Garrards were heard. They were men of the best brains, talent and power, and yet they refused to forget or heal the breaches created among them during the Civil War. Many of them, when occasion was at hand continued to fight it out, and generally to the destruction of members of their factions. Once, years ago,

SOMBER THOUGHTS

(An Editorial)

THE public official, or to be more exact, the executive and judicial official, has a thorny way to travel. To hew to the line, giving no heed to the chips, brings more or less criticism, often curses. The juror sitting in judgment on the guilt or innocence of a defendant renders a verdict and after it is over screams and curses rend the air against his verdict. A just judge sitting on the bench renders an opinion in perfect conformity of the law, and the finger of criticism is pointed at him. I recall that the spirit of jealousy and selfishness prompted a cabal to be formed for the purpose of destroying the great father of his country, George Washington. Whatever our great Civil War president, Abraham Lincoln, did to stay animosity and bring back the hovering angel of peace and a restored country he was criticised, abused and finally shot to death by an ignoble and crazy assassin. The arrows of avarice, scepticism, idolatry and paganism, no doubt, pierced the heart of Saint Paul and brought groans to him, often too deep for utterance. In the man, in the true mar, criticism and abuse builds strength. Under the fire of these the weakling falls. At no other time in all our history have we needed iron hearts and steel wills to guide our ship of state. In times like these poverty, hardships and suffering breed discontent, almost anarchy. In times like these our social and moral fabric may fly into splinters and an irrevocable condition develop.

There is a motive for writing this, and, so far as we are concerned, a local one. Our institutions of learning, our churches, our officers from the lowest to the highest, and our fabric of citizenship, often wavering, are in the hands of persons who are human and in the performance of their duties, under duress and embarrassment, their hands must be upheld. The waters are deep, the tides are high, the quick-sands are close by—don't rock the boat!

It's the landing that is important. Let us be thankful that we have no feuds, that the heart of our old, true and tried civilization is sound, that the heads of our churches are looking to God, that our teachers have their hearts and hands on the altar of sacrifice and are leading our future hopes along proper paths and that, finally, heaven still sheds beneficent smiles and the government of Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Teddy and Wilson still lives.

Elder Sam C. Tyree will preach at the First Baptist Church in the city on Sunday night, September 25th. All are invited to hear this former citizen of our town.

A CORRECTION

Unfortunately we make mistakes one week and fortunately have the opportunity to correct them the next. For instance we said Miss Evadean Squires had gone to the State University, whereas we ought to have said she had gone to Covington to begin her term of school. Also we had Lincoln Combs headed for London to enter school when in truth he went to Barboursville.

Our loyal friend, John H. Campbell and his little daughter, Edna, were in the city from Ulvah and were pleasant Eagle visitors.

Crippled Childrens' Clinic Sept. 29th

Approximately 100 crippled children from Perry, Knott, Leslie and Letcher counties are expected to attend the free diagnostic clinic to be held at the Methodist Church in Hazard on Thursday, Sept. 29.

The clinic is conducted by the Kentucky Crippled Children's Commission, and will be the first clinic held in Hazard since July 1, 1930, at which time ninety-seven crippled children were examined. Many of these children have received treatment in Louisville and Lexington hospitals, at the Commission's expense, and such cases are urged to return for a check-up examination that they be assured the greatest benefit from the treatment that has already been given them.

Free examination and advice in regard to treatment will be given by Dr. R. L. Hudson, bone specialist, of Louisville, who is a member of the Professional Advisory Committee co-operating with the Crippled Children's Commission in its effort to help every physically handicapped child in the state.

Local clubs are sponsoring the clinic on September 29th and will furnish free transportation for crippled children and one of their parents who have not means of reaching Hazard. Persons desiring transportation are requested to communicate with Dr. Collins, Whitesburg health officer for Letcher County, or Dr. Duke, Hindman, Knott County health officer, or with Miss Pauline Meyers at the Perry County Health Office, Hazard. Persons from Knott and Letcher counties who need transportation will meet at the County Health Department at 8 o'clock on the morning of the clinic, September 29th.

SCHOOLS HOLD JOINT MEETING

Upper Millstone School, conducted by Henry M. Holbrook, was visited by the Lower Fishpond School, of which Marvin Webb is teacher. A highly entertaining and enjoyable occasion resulted. A big dinner was set on the ground and was enjoyed by all of the students as well as the many patrons of the school. After the luncheon hour was over, games were played and foot-races enjoyed. After this the two schools engaged in an oral spelling match. Upper Millstone took the prize. This over, the students and teachers returned to the athletic field where an exciting baseball game was played. At the close Millstone stood winner again with a score of 19 to 5. In the game Fishpond was without two of its best players. It was a great day for the two schools. The spirit of perfect cooperation was manifest on every hand. There was not an unpleasant remark and perfect order was maintained. More such joint meetings should be held and the spirit of cooperation and educational teamwork encouraged. The millstone and Fishpond students now know each other better, and this one occasion will be long remembered.

Mother Passes Away

Mrs. Bertha Morgan Banks, about twenty-six, wife of Wesley Banks, died after a few days illness at her home on Craft's Colly. She leaves a husband, who is a son of Bona Banks of Uz, and several small children to mourn the great loss. Mrs. Morgan was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crit C. Morgan, residing in Craft's Colly. We extend sympathies to all the bereaved relatives and friends.

Memorial Services For Will Maggard

The remains of our lamented citizen and friend, William H. Maggard, whose death was reported in the Eagle, were interred in the Sandlick cemetery instead of on Little Colly as reported in the Eagle. Revs. Enlow, of the Baptist Church, and Caudill, of the Presbyterian Church, were in charge of the funeral. Whitesburg and the whole county turned out almost to attend it. An estimate of from four to five hundred persons, most grown people in attendance, was made. After the funeral services ended the interment of the remains was given into the hands of the Masonic fraternity, of which the deceased was a highly admired member, and a beautiful service was performed at the grave.

PERRY COUNTY OWES $517,100

Perry County owes $517,100, according to a report made to Governor Ruby Laffoon by State Inspector Nat. B. Sewell. This debt is made up of $473,000 in road and bridge bonds and $39,000 in funding bonds. Salaries of officials total $12,655 a year.

Jas. H. Richmond, Democratic campaign chairman for Kentucky, has named county chairmen for our section as follows: J. L. Hays, Whitesburg; William Engle, Hazard; W. R. Smith, Hindman, and D. E. Steele, Leslie County.

KENTUCKY ASKS FOR LARGE LOAN

Administration officials for Kentucky are urging an $8,500,000 loan from the United States Reconstruction Corporation to help out its finances and tide the state over for the next few months as well as to help the states needy during the coming winter. J. H. Richmond is asking for $2,000,000 of this loan to tide over the payment of teachers to meet the delay in tax collections. Heretofore all taxes are supposed to be paid on or before Jan. 1, or penalty and interests attach, but the last Legislature set this date forward to March 1. State Tax Commissioner Seldon R. Glenn wants $5,000,000 to retire a part of the state's floating indebtedness and thus stabilize the market for state warrants which have been selling at a discount, while Dr. McCormack, head of the State Health Department, is asking for $1,500,000 for direct relief in the unemployment situation. The eyes of the whole state are looking forward to more suffering on account of unemployment and the shortness of farm products than ever before, and Dr. McCormack realizes that something must be done to lessen the horribleness of the situation.

Federal Court opened at Jackson Monday and Whitesburg was minus a goodly number of its citizens who had business there.

All precinct chairmen are requested to be present.

JOHN PEARL HERE AGAIN

John Pearl! Fifty-four years ago that name was common in Whitesburg, for it was he who first started a local newspaper in the old town. It was "The Pound Gap Enterprise," and at the time it created a sensation, for no one much had then seen a local newspaper. Tip Nickels, and that name sounds familiar too, and John Pearl were the editors. The house in which the paper was printed stood on what is now the street running from Jail Street to Main Street and rather below the A&P Store. At the time the names of W. H. Nickels, B. M. Webb, Tucker Sturdivant, Jas. E. Sarver, J. B. Fitzpatrick, Ezekiel Brashears, Wesley Hogg, John A. Craft, J. N. Thompson, Madison Collins, Dr. Sam Breeding, Mary and Hester Brashears, J. H. Frazier, Watson Caudill, Jailer Hen Polly, W. S. Vermillion, David Halcomb, John Richmond, Marion Hall, P. W. Hall, Aunt Sally Fugate, Millard Collins, Dr. Frank Lindsay, Edward Combs, Manan Jenkins, Bob May, R. O. Brashears, Jailer Hiram Williams, Bill Sturgill, Jake Fitzpatrick, John Phiergo, Dave Jackson, Jess, Sam and Robert Blair, Joseph S. Fairchild, John W. Wright, Dr. M. B. Taylor, S. E. Baker and many other old names found their way into the little Enterprise. Many of these took their first steps into literature by writing a few lines for the paper, for it was then a curiosity of the day to get one name in print.

The why we are prompted to write and print the above is the fact that the old editor of the first paper, John Pearl, not much the worse for all these years of wear and tear, walked boldly and unheeded into the Eagle office. He wanted to see the town and wanted to know who of the old folks were still here. Sad to say, in leading him around we could only find Jas. H. Frazier and Bob May who gave him a loyal welcome. He eyed long and sadly the old Nickels home, the red brick on Main Street and the Jim Sarver place, very different now, still standing on upper Main. Aside from the old boxed house across the river these are the only monuments of the old days of '79 and '80 still standing. John Pearl, seventy-two, is still a printer and for the past twenty-two years has been the man on the job case in the Pineville Sun office.

THE ECHOES ARE RINGING

The national political whirligig is now started in full swing. Franklin Roosevelt, the Democrat, is bombarding in the West and even rippling the waters of the Pacific, while President Hoover is apparently making up his mind to hit the hustings in speech-making too. The election is now less than two months away and if the mast is not now killed by the political lightnings it will be before the thunders are all over.

Both political parties are already sending the overburdened little local newspapers quantities of their political pot and asking us to publish it free. Our experience is that local newspapers usually get pay for this free gaff over in the Promised Land. On our part we need the fiddler and they surely pay the dancers. We understand that Mr. Hoover is no poor spade and Mr. Roosevelt not a church mouse. Our space is a part of our meat and bread.

OUR SCHOOLS.

From information received from patrons of schools all over the county and from talks had with various teachers as well as constantly observing the grim determination of our Board of Education and its head to make this the greatest school year in the history of the county and knowing the financial embarrassment under which teachers are working, these reports and observations are highly encouraging. Interest among parents and patrons was never stronger and stronger and never has been attendance better. With few exceptions and considering the heat usually manifest in school elections and the great number of good teachers who did not find schools there is less rivalry and more unanimity of work than usual. The schools of the county are one big family. The County Superintendent and the Board of Education is the parent head, the trustees and patrons are auxiliaries and the teachers are the directors. Cooperation among all these is essentially necessary for the success and well-being of the whole structure. The proposition of finances necessary for maintenance of the system is essential but is by no means the highest or the greatest. The system exists for the building of children, boys and girls, into men and women in the primary and exclusive sense of that word. Mental, moral, healthy, cultured, useful, sensible men and women, equal to the task of assuming responsibilities as heads of families, as leaders in beneficial social work, in maintenance of law and order and in the stabilization of government. Becoming emphatic, I see no other reasonable hope for this country except that which must come through our common schools. From them the flowers of the nation have always bloomed.

And the head of the hope at the present is our County Superintendent and his Board of Education, who are the head of the schools struggling to make them the best.

It has always been rather comical to me that ordinary people become so important along about election times. I see they are beginning to become that way now.

Street Cars That Go Straight Up

A vertical street railway system where the trolley cars instead of running on the highways go almost straight up in the air, has recently been put into operation in Bahia, Brazil.

This thriving Brazilian town is built on two levels, the residential section being considerably above the commercial district. It is necessary daily to move the town's entire population from one level to another. Recently Bahia, opened the La Cerda tower connecting the two levels with high speed elevator service. Before the tower was erected the town depended upon an incline railway known as the "steam chariot."

As the population grew, additional transportation facilities were required, and the engineers of the Otis Elevator Company last year converted the "chariot" into what is probably the only vertical trolley car system in existence.

This unique railway has two cars, each having a capacity of forty passengers. The travel of these cars is about 175 feet on an incline from the horizontal of about 35 degrees. The cars travel at a speed of 650 feet per minute, and each has two entrances and two exits protected by power operated doors.

A view of Brazil's vertical street railway. (Above) a close-up of one of the "trolleys" which gives the effect of a street car on stilts.

The re-opening of this vertical street car system was made a public function, attended by the local authorities, representatives of the press, and many of the prominent citizens of the city. The ceremony was conducted by the acting Prefect of Bahia who stressed the marked improvement in communication between the two levels which will be provided by the new conditions.

JEREMIAH

Quite a crowd from about here attended the big Caudill reunion, near Whitesburg, Sunday.

The school at the mouth of Little Colly is doing nicely. The teachers are Carliss Breeding and Lovel Ison, nice, hard-working young men.

Farmers are done foddering and are now making cane molasses. Farmers say their corn is better than they expected.

It is still dreadfully dry over here. Water for stock is almost gone and many of the wells have been dry for weeks.

Our neighborhood was completely shocked when the news of the sad death of Will Maggard reached here. Death levels all things. The gay, the proud, the good, the bad, the rich and poor fall victims to this reaper.

Eld. J. Marion Blair, long a teacher of the county and for many years a minister in the old Baptist Church, residing on Crafts Colly, is talked of as a candidate for Tax Commissioner in the 1933 primary election. It is even stated that he will announce as a candidate at once.

Stuart-Robinson

The two-week's meeting conducted by Rev. E. L. Wilson, of Lexington, at the Doermann Memorial Church in Blackey came to a close Sunday night. During these two weeks both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Cockerham labored most faithfully among the people of the community, visiting them in their homes, praying with them and otherwise making every effort to interest them in spiritual things. Mr. Wilson's sermons were earnest, forceful, heart-searching, and those who were privileged to listen to them from night to night were spiritually refreshed and strengthened. Mr. Wilson expects to begin a meeting at Carbon Glow on the evening of September 26.

We regret to note that Rev. E. L. Cockerham has been ill for the past few days and was unable to attend church services either Sunday or Sunday night. However, he believes it will be possible for him to fill his pulpit next Sunday.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week the Stuart-Robinson Circle of the Woman's Auxiliary held its bi-weekly meeting out in a beautiful "woods" spot near the campus. The ladies brought their needles, thread, thimbles and quilt pieces and after the program was over they spent a delightful hour seated on a grassy slope engaged in putting together pieces of bright print to form squares for a "double wedding ring" quilt, chatting in neighborly fashion the while. When the shadows began to lengthen a fire was built beneath the trees, coffee was made and a delicious picnic supper served. After this had been disposed of to the satisfaction of all present Mrs. Cockerham entertained the group of men and women (for, by the way, the ladies brought their husbands on this occasion) with some of her famous "Angeline" stories. Mr. Cockerham was called upon for a "Bre'r Rabbit" story but was not feeling up to normal physically, so declined. Besides these two guests, Rev. E. L.

Wilson, Mrs. E. C. Murray and Miss Emma Kay were also present.

Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Cockerham entertained at dinner last Wednesday evening, guests being Rev. O. V. Caudill, Whitesburg; Rev. E. L. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cooper, jr., Mrs. E. C. Murray and Misses Emma Bartholomew, Margaret McNeill, Florence Gray, Dorcas McRae, Eunice Caldwell and Martha Tice.

Benton Back received a rather painful injury during football practice something over a week ago, but is now able to get about on crutches.

Mrs. W. T. Moore and attractive little sons, Billy and Bobby, of Jackson, are guests of Mrs. P. A. Tice.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Tice returned from a week's stay in Lexington, Mrs. Tice will remain with Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Tice while Jimmie goes back to Lexington to continue his studies at the University.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Tice entertained Mrs. R. I. Knox, Miss Emma Kay and Mrs. J. M. Phillips at lunch on Thursday, and that evening they had as their dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cooper, jr., Mrs. E. C. Murray and Misses Emma Bartholomew, Mary Ervin and Florence Gray.

Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Cockerham, Rev. E. L. Wilson and Misses Emma Kay, Mary Ervin and Dorcas McRae were invited to dine with Mrs. R. I. Knox on Saturday evening.

The Blackey and Stuart-Robinson Circles had a joint meeting at the church Monday afternoon. A very interesting and helpful program was enjoyed, and afterward supper was served in the social room of the church.

Stuart-Robinson students know of something new under the sun. You may hear them talking of a "hike" to Pine Mountain or some other distant spot but never think they intend hiking in the true sense of the word—not they! They requisition the big school truck and away they ride! The seniors enjoyed one of these new-fangled hikes Monday afternoon, accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Frances Rolston, and by Mr. and Mrs. W. L.

Cooper, jr., Mrs. E. C. Murray, Miss Emma Bartholomew and Miss Sara Carter. The winding road to the top of Pine Mountain was very dusty, it is true, but who minds a little thing like that when the heights are reached and that wonderful panoramic view spreads before the eyes? Not these seniors, surely, nor their chaperons. And when supper was served and the group gathered 'round the table in happy fellowship the occasion was complete.

Merry conversation, songs and jests enlivened the hour for when this crowd gets together dull care departs and wholesome fun reigns supreme. Other class hikes are soon to follow but the seniors are sure that none of the rest will have so good a time as they.

Use This Laxative made from plants

Theodore's BLACK-DRAUGHT is made from plants that grow in the ground, like the garden vegetables you eat at every meal. NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat.

In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to get the bowels to act daily. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

Our Announced Candidates

The 1933 Election For County Offices Is Near

Those so far to announce are given below:

FOR COUNTY COURT CLERK

To The People of
Letcher County:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for County Court Clerk of Letcher County, to be voted for at the coming primary election in 1933. I am a young man, 26 years of age, and a native of your county. My father is General Adams, a son of Ben Adams of the lower Rockhouse section. My mother is a daughter of the late Elder Henry R. S. Caudill, whom a number of you knew in his lifetime. From my earliest boyhood I've struggled hard to get an education, and have succeeded fairly well in this. I am now teaching in the Eolia High School. I am the son of a Republican, have been reared that way, and I still cling to that faith. However, a great number of my close relatives and friends are Democrats. Of course I ask to be nominated on the Republican ticket when the primary comes, and even until that time I shall be asking for the support of all of you. If I am nominated I will endeavor to carry our ticket to victory in the following November.

Thanking my friends for the favors shown me in the past and hoping to merit the further confidence of all, I am,

LEE ADAMS.

Whitesburg, Ky. Sept. 3, 1932

Candidate For Jailer Announces

To The Voters of
Letcher County:

In making this, my announcement for Jailer of Letcher County, to be nominated next year, I hope no one will call me an early bird. I've had it in mind some time and I am taking this opportunity to tell the people so. I am a native Letcher County woman and belong to one of the oldest families. The late Elisha Collins was my father. Uncle Jim Collins of Whitesburg is my uncle. I am the widow of Wiley Jenkins. With this information you will readily know who I am. I have never had an easy time but have been a hard worker all by life. If you nominate and elect me as your Jailer I will serve you honestly and earnestly. I have always clung to the Republican party and I will ask for the nomination from this party, but I shall expect and solicit the help of all.

Anticipating and inviting your friendship and favors, I am,

MRS. SALLY JENKINS

Presidential Candidates to Reach Large Farm Audience

Presidential candidates angling for the elusive but important agricultural vote this fall will find at the other end of their microphone the largest farm radio audience in history. The rapid increase in the number of radios on farms in the last year despite unfavorable economic conditions, gives both the Democratic and Republican aspirants a much better opportunity to reach the rural voter than previous candidates have enjoyed. Perhaps one explanation of this sudden increase in listeners is the development during the last year of the first satisfactory type of set for homes not served by power lines. The new receivers, known as air cell sets, and made now by all leading radio manufacturers, have at last freed the farmer from the trouble, expense and unsatisfactory reception to which previous types of battery sets subjected him. The new sets use a revolutionary type of "breathing battery" for "A" current, and are equipped with the latest improvements in radio engineering, such as dynamic speakers, super-heterodyne circuits, and pentode tubes. No storage battery is necessary. Senator Arthur Capper, a radio enthusiast, believes they are the final solution to the farmer's radio problems. The "breathing battery" lasts for a year, or to be exact, for more than a thousand hours of service, after which they are replaced with a new battery at a fraction of the cost of old type battery power—not to mention the freedom from the inconvenience of recharging storage batteries.

good time at all parties at her home.

The revival which has just closed at the local Presbyterian Church was a decided success in every way.

Wednesday, Rev. H. L. Cockerham and Mrs. Cockerham entertained for Dr. E. L. Wilson, of Lexington, in honor of Rev. O. V. Caudill, of Whitesburg. A six o'clock dinner was served. The faculty of Stuart Robinson School was present.

The W. M. Rogers general store, the Dixon Caudill taxicab office and the information bureau operated and conducted in connection therewith have been removed from the Jenkins Building opposite the depot to the Frank Blair building on Calloway Street.

Randal Box, formerly employed by the L. & N. on this division, now holding a responsible position with the Southern Pacific Railway at El Paso, Texas, arrived by motor for a visit with Miss Annabel Dixon, popular teacher in the city schools.

Trading hit town today like a streak of lightning, and Wardie Tolson bought out Pat Pier-sall's general store. Just after that E. D. Portwood had closed a deal for Wardie's grocery store and soft drink stand.

Hazel McIntire has entered the Morehead State Teachers' College.

Miss Ann Gordon, Morehead, visited home folks here over the week-end.

Miss Gladys Adams and Susan Adams have entered the State Teachers' College at Richmond.

iff Langdon and a corps of deputies, some of them riding horseback in front of the procession and others in the rear.

Across every saddle and in every automobile there were shotguns and rifles and in many a holster there were additional firearms.

Just how the opposing crowd evacuated Manchester and where its warriors went was not generally known but they left cothouse offices and rooms in buildings around the public square one by one and disappeared. So furious had been the gunfire that no one ventured to watch them depart.

"The trouble broke out at 7 o'clock in the morning as Frank Baker stepped out of the front door of his uncle's home, directly opposite the courthouse. Without warning he was shot down by a bullet fired from the vicinity of the courthouse. Then Brockman, hearing the shot, ran to Baker's assistance. He, too, was shot and died almost instantly.

"After that Wiley Baker went outside the door and a shot pierced his shoe. When Wiley Baker's aged mother looked to see what was going on a bullet whizzed by her head.

"Frank Young, 40, was shot in the hip. He was dragged back into the house. Then there began, witnesses up and down the street said, an exchange of fire from pistols, rifles and shotguns. Now and then an occasional shot ringing down from the mountain side and hitting in the street between the factions' camps."

BOTTOMFORK

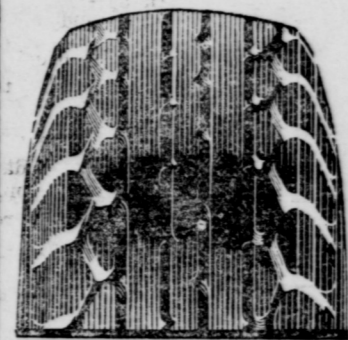

The Farmers' Improvement Club of Bottomfork is looking forward to Fair Day, October 1, when they intend to institute a new event in the history of the club or in the history of the county so far as the writer knows. Faithful, diligent, earnest workers of this section have labored throughout the season in order to produce more and better products, many of which will be on exhibition on that day. The leaders of the Improvement Club are making every effort to create an effective cooperative rivalry that will bring about better results from the little worn-down hill-side farms in the mountains of Letcher County, so that this section will be less dependent on the outside world for "rations" in the future. The results so far have been very noticeable. Fields hitherto idle, now are put to new uses. Better pastures for "Old Jersey", have been made; the weed lots back of the house show signs of Irish cobbles and Nancy Halls; better breeds of Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rocks abound in the poultry lots; hay lofts are being filled with soy beans, cow peas, cane and fodder. "Make hay while the sun shines" has been their slogan this year.

Now that the harvest is about over these folks desire a get-together and so they are going to have one on the above mentioned date. The fair grounds have been conditioned and everything is getting in readiness for Saturday, Oct. 1. A good crowd is expected and everybody invited. There is nothing like an old time meet-in' and dinner on the ground. A program is under way and hopes to prove interesting to all.

The meeting of the Improvement Club last Friday night was very successful. The music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Newport and Ismay Sparks, was enjoyed by all. The meeting was mainly devoted to making arrangements for the fair.

Diet Didn't Do This!

HAPPY little girl, just bursting with pep, and she has never tasted a "tonic!"

Every child's stomach, liver, and bowels need stimulating at times, but give children something you know all about.

Follow the advice of that famous family physician who gave the world Syrup Pepsin. Stimulate the body's vital organs. Dr. Caldwell's prescription of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs is a mild stimulant that keeps the system from getting sluggish.

If your youngsters don't do well at school, don't play as hard or eat as well as other children do, begin this evening with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This gentle stimulant will soon right things! The bowels will move with better regularity and thoroughness. There won't be so many sick spells or colds. You'll find it just as wonderful for adults, too, in larger spoonfuls!

Get some Syrup Pepsin; protect your household from those bilious days, frequent headaches, and that sluggish state of half-health that means the bowels need stimulating. Keep this preparation in the home to use instead of harsh cathartics that cause chronic constipation if taken too often. You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store; they have it all ready in big bottles.

Unusual Dishes Help to Cut Food Budget for the Family

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Heinz Food Institute

OBTAINING variety in luncheon and supper dishes is often a real problem. It is much easier to serve chops or steak than it is to plan menus including more unusual dishes. The out-of-the-ordinary dish for luncheon or supper is likely to be less expensive and is certain to be greeted enthusiastically by a hungry family but it sometimes is difficult to plan. The following practical, savory dishes will be real treats. They also will help cut the food budget and will bring new flavor and new interest to your meals.

Indian Corn—Cook 1 medium onion, chopped fine, and ½ green pepper, chopped fine, in frying pan with 2 tablespoons butter for five minutes. Add 1 pound ground beef, and allow to brown well, stirring frequently. Add 1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn (2 cups), 1 medium can Cream of Tomato Soup (2 cups), 1 teaspoon sugar and 1 teaspoon salt. Simmer for about twenty minutes, stir in 2 tablespoons flour blended with 2 tablespoons cold water, cook for a few minutes and serve. Toast points or triangles are an attractive garnish.

Hot Devilish Eggs—Put together in a pan and heat, 3 level tablespoons butter, 1½ teaspoons Prepared Mustard, 3 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup, 1½ tablespoons Worcestershire Sauce, dash of pepper or paprika and ¼ teaspoon salt. Bring to the boiling point and add 6 hard cooked eggs cut in slices. Heat, and serve on hot buttered toast.

Spaghetti Loaf—Pour 1½ cups scalding milk over 1 cup soft bread crumbs. Add ¼ cup melted butter, 1 chopped pimiento, 1 tablespoon onion, 1½ cups grated American cheese, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt, and dash of paprika. Then add 3 well beaten eggs. Put 2 cups cooked spaghetti in a greased casserole and pour milk and cheese mixture over it. Bake about 50 minutes in a moderate oven of 350° F. until firm.

Hot Open Bean Sandwich with Sliced Beef—Break contents of 1 small jar dried beef into small pieces and brown in frying pan with 1 tablespoon butter. After a few minutes, add 1 medium can Oven-Baked Beans, 2 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup, and 1 teaspoon sugar and allow to heat thoroughly. Serve on slices of golden brown toast. A slice of Genuine Dill Pickle is a suitable accompaniment to this dish. Serves 6.

Rlph, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Boaz Adkins, underwent an operation at Lexington early in the week, and from last reports was doing nicely.

LOWER BIG BRANCH SCHOOL

Last Friday a big day result ed when the teachers and students of Defeated Creek School and Lower Big Branch School met together. The two schools challenged each other for a spelling match and ball game. The spelling match started with a breathless silence and ambition from each side to win. Suspense was visible everywhere lest some student make a break and cause a weakening. For quite a while the match stood on a tie, neither side yielding. A nine year old girl was on the floor and on and on she stood at her post. When dinner time came she still stood on deck. When the big dinner was spread, all talk of the depression was over. You can never tell what these people lay back for emergencies. After dinner the ball game (we call it Round Town) began, and it, too, was exciting. It ended with Defeated Creek 26 and Big Branch 29.

The game over, the little girl was again on the stage and again excitement ran high. Nearly the whole spelling book was exhausted before she left the match. It ended with Big Branch winner, but Defeated Creek more determined. We have an invitation to visit their school and try to give them another licking.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Passmore gave an interesting birthday dinner to their young son, Jack, today. A large cake, which opened wide the sparkling eyes of the guests and brought joy to their young hearts, was the principal attraction. The young fellows had the time of their lives. The guests were: John Crawford, Charles Blair, Sam Collins, Jr., Eugene Enlow, Eric Rierson, Jr., John Brown, Jimmy Marlowe, Jack Swisher, Steve Hansford Bowen, James Squires, Gene Moore, Billie Sergeant, Jack Collins, Archie Fields and Dudley Whitaker.

William Vermillion, Jr., with his attendant, Ferdinand Moore, arrived home early in the week from Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where young Vermillion had been receiving treatment for several weeks. The young man who some months ago was regarded as hopelessly ill from a tumor is apparently now on his way to complete recovery, and that without an operation. His physician at the hospital says that he should return to the hospital in about two months for final treatment for a few weeks. William is looking good and his many friends are glad.

Mrs. Charlie Vocci, seriously ill and apparently at the point of death during the week, is now better, and hopes for her recovery are entertained.

NINTH INNING RALLY WINS FOR PIKEVILLE

(By Swede Johnson)

Jenkins, Sept. 20. — Jenkins took an early lead in Sunday's game, scoring twice in the first inning and again in the third, but this lead was lost to Pikeville in their ninth inning rally. The Pikeville team started coming to the front in the sixth inning. When Dunkle reached second base after Sparks muffed his fly-ball to centerfield, then scored on Robert's single. And to put the proper finishing touch on the old game, they pushed three runs across the plate in the final frame.

Although Pikeville won the game insofar as the number of runs were concerned, they lost the game to Jenkins due to the fact that they did not observe the rules of the League. That is, they played players who were not eligible to play. They sent Buck Dunkle into the game under the name of Ratliff and Tyler under the name of J. Johnson. These boys were too well known to several of the fans and one or two of the Jenkins players to get by like that. In fact, one of these boys was greeted by one of his old managers he had played for several years back.

Even though the game was not played according to League rules it certainly was a good one and was well worth the money and time put forth by every fan in the grandstand.

Roberts and Hodges hit best for the visitors, each getting three hits out of five times up. Hodges was also the fielding star, going after some very difficult chances and making them look easy. J. Adams hit best for Jenkins, getting two doubles out of three times up. Pettus and Christopher hit twice for four.

It has not been officially announced, however, it is the understanding that Jenkins will meet Prestonsburg in the first game of the series next Sunday. Mr. Batton, manager of Pikeville Club, stated here Sunday that he had no objections, to the protest Jenkins filed against Pikeville for ineligible players used in Sunday's game.

On last Saturday the Democratic County Committee met in the office of J. L. Hays and unanimously nominated J. Mat Webb as the Democratic candidate for justice of the peace in District No. 8. HINDMAN BANK ROBBED

The young men's class of the Presbyterian Sunday School at Whitesburg was given a real treat by their teacher, W. C. Norman, on the courthouse Sunday School.

Those present were: Wayne Stamper, Chad Mullins, Alton lawn Sunday at the close of Moore, Darroll Speaks, Kile Campbell, "Red" Craft, Kenton Mullins, Silas Madden, Earl Craft, Willie Mahn, Harold Vermillion, Chas. This class plans to build a cabin on Pine Mountain sometime in the future, and when this is done we can all have a real treat from time to time.

* Cedar Grove School *

Our school is progressing nicely, and parents, teachers and students are highly enthusiastic. The people here stand united in the belief "as is the school so will be the neighborhood, its prosperity and peace." They say they must have the best school in the county, and they strive daily to that end.

We have had several fine rains which were badly needed. Corn crops this season, in our section, will be short more than one-half. People are convinced that now is the hardest time they have ever had in keeping soul and body together. However, they are still hoping, and "Hope springs eternal in the human breast."—DICKEY.

Rev. and Mrs. Sam Tyree were up from Pineville early in the week visiting their daughter, Mrs. R. M. Fields, and attending and participating in the big Caudill reunion.

Mrs. Mary Crawford, of Big Cowan, a few days ago. We Hyatt, mother of Dr. J. E. Crawford of our city, and Roy Crawford, has been a welcome visitor at the home of her sons for some days. Most of our readers know that Mrs. Crawford is a sister to the late Dr. John and Uncle Frank Collins of Mayking, and is the wife of our former sheriff, C. C. Crawford, now a leading farmer in Rockcastle County.

Robert L. Frazier, of Lawrenceburg, father of our popular citizen, E. L. Frazier, is visiting at the home of his son for a few days. T. W. Adams, a friend of his from Lawrenceburg, is here with him. He is interested in the big Adams families in our county and thinks he is related to them.

CHEVROLET SAVE WITH SIX CYLINDERS

—with more than six you sacrifice economy
—with less than six you sacrifice smoothness

IF YOU'RE careful about the way you spend your dollars for a low-priced car, you'll be extra-careful about the way you count cylinders. Because if you count more than six, you're not going to get the lowest all-round motoring cost that is saving so many thousands of dollars for Chevrolet owners every day.

And if you count less than six—you won't be any better off from a dollars-and-cents standpoint. Six is the smallest number of cylinders you can have, and still get Chevrolet's built-in smoothness. And built-in smoothness saves you money. It guards against the insidious workings of excessive vibration. It holds repair bills down to rock-bottom. So—if the car is a Chevrolet Six—you'll SAVE!

ESPECIALLY AFTER 5,000 MILES

What's more important—you'll keep on saving. There's nothing temporary about Chevrolet economy. It lasts! Especially after 5,000—10,000—15,000 miles, when the cost of operating other low-priced cars goes up, Chevrolet's cost stays down. More economical to start with, Chevrolet is more economical still, after long usage!

Best of all: you can save with six cylinders, and not sacrifice one important advancement. You enjoy Free Wheeling, Syncro-Mesh gear-shifting, roomy Fisher bodies. Considering these facts—do you honestly think it's wise—or economical—to keep that old car any longer?
